

The death of any dog is hard. The death of a Heart Dog – a canine soul mate – is much, much worse ... Even if you’ve experienced pet loss before, life without your canine soul mate is much harder. Typical grief advice isn’t enough.

Heart Dog:

- Answers all the big questions about canine soul mates
- Offers practical ideas for coping with each day’s dose of grief
- Provides inspiration for finding your place in the world after such a profound loss.

Strategies and insights come from the author and 500 people who participated in an online survey.

Others have survived the grief. You can too. Let Heart Dog be your guide.

“As a veterinarian, I highly recommend this book to any member of the veterinary medical health care team, who would like to gain knowledge and understanding regarding the strong feelings and severe stresses, which their clients may undergo, following the loss of a beloved pet, specifically their Heart Dog.”

– Dr. Ted Cohn, veterinarian and American Veterinary Medical Association president 2014-15

“Heart Dog does an amazing job of capturing and exploring the personal, and often indescribable, feelings of grief and loss that come with the death of a treasured pet. This book is a great resource for anyone currently grieving the loss of their Heart Dog.”

– Dr. Stacy D. Meola, veterinarian and board-certified veterinary emergency and critical care specialist

“Some dogs come into our lives for a reason. When that reason also brings heartbreak, the road ahead may seem impossible. Heart Dog* gives you fresh ideas for working through your grief.”

– Dr. Rainier Ko, veterinarian and board-certified veterinary neurologist / neurosurgeon / surgeon

“Honest, concise, and ultimately hopeful, veteran author and dog-lover Roxanne Hawn has transformed the deep pain of losing her canine soul mate Lilly into an empathetic guide that provides wisdom and comfort to any of us who have experienced the loss of a much beloved pet. Balancing her own story with those shared by her readers, Hawn walks the reader through the painful process of loss from the early stages of grief through the memorials that help us heal. So many people struggling with their feelings ask themselves, ‘Am I alone in feeling this way?’ and ‘Will I ever get better?’ Heart Dog will assure them, with candor and compassion, the answers — in order — are ‘No’ and ‘Yes.’”

– Dr. Jessica Vogelsang, veterinarian and author of All Dogs Go to Kevin
